Re: Kellogg School of Management at Northwestern University to Host Faith and Leadership Week

Many leaders of faith-based institutions recognize the need to complement seminary and religious studies training with skills for organizational leadership. The Faith and Leadership Week, scheduled for June 15-18, 2020 on the Chicago Campus of Northwestern, gives participants an opportunity to learn leadership principles and management theory.

The four-day program will feature Northwestern professors and focus on topics such as decision making, engaging volunteers, team building, persuasion and influence.

Tuition is $1,500 and includes meals. Accommodations are responsibility of the participant. Scholarships of up to 50% are available for those who are currently working for nonprofit organizations. Applications are online.

If interested, please visit <https://www.kellogg.northwestern.edu/executive-education/individual-programs/nonprofit-programs/np-faith.aspx> or call 847-491-3415.

Ongoing formation funding is available for these opportunities.
