

Memo

Date: June 2, 2025

To: Priests, deacons, brothers, sisters, communicators, parish ministry coordinators and social justice ministries

From: Jayna Hoffacker, director of Restorative Justice Ministry, Office of Life, Dignity and Justice

Re: National Catholic Conference on restorative justice to be held in Atlanta

Join Catholic Mobilizing Network (CMN) on September 25-27 in Atlanta for the third National Catholic Conference on Restorative Justice. The Archdiocese of Atlanta is proud to collaborate on this conference with Catholic Mobilizing Network and the Aquinas Center of Theology.

CMN's biennial conference will take on the theme "Tangible Signs of Hope." Drawing inspiration from the special Jubilee Year 2025, this event will illuminate concrete examples of where and how Catholics can contribute to restorative justice efforts that transform the U.S. systems of capital punishment and incarceration.

Register below before Friday, July 18, for early bird pricing. Scholarships are available for those who are in need of financial assistance.

For more information, contact me at jhoffacker@archatl.com or 404-920-7898.

Register here.