Re: New Director of GRACE Scholars

It is with great pleasure that I announce the promotion of Melissa Bassett to the role of Director of GRACE Scholars effective upon David Brown's retirement of July 1, 2018.

Many of you know Melissa as the current GRACE Coordinator where she has worked since September 2015. Melissa will continue the good work and leadership that David advanced during his seven year tenure with this important ministry to make Catholic education available, affordable and accessible.

Please join me in congratulating Melissa Bassett and again thanking David Brown as his retirement approaches.
