To: Priests, deacons, parish and school staff
From: Nichole Golden, Editor, The Georgia Bulletin
Re: Added-value opportunities from The Georgia Bulletin

The Georgia Bulletin would like to reintroduce two features of the newspaper for your consideration. We ask that you let your parishioners know about these opportunities.

Catholic Business Directory: The online business directory, which began September 2019, promotes and supports Catholic-owned businesses. For $200 a year, list your business card and company contact information. To view the directory on our website, visit georgiabulletin.org/business-directory. For more information or to place an ad, contact Tom Aisthorpe at 404-920-7441 or email ads@georgiabulletin.org.

Photo Gallery: Our award-winning photographer, Michael Alexander, has taken numerous photos that are available for purchase. The gallery includes photos from sporting events, ordinations, the Eucharistic Congress, building dedications and additional stories that we share in our newspaper. To view and purchase pictures, please visit gabull.smugmug.com.

Please share this information in your bulletins and newsletters. Thank you for your continued support of local Catholic news in central and north Georgia.
