

Memo

Date: February 15, 2021

To: Parish bulletin editors and pastors

From: Nichole Golden, Editor, The Georgia Bulletin

Re: The Georgia Bulletin starts a new effort to better connect to parishes and readers

We are starting a new effort here at The Georgia Bulletin to better connect to our parishes and readers. Please consider including some of our story notes in your bulletins. We will include them in the Communiqué moving forward. Also, if you have submissions, story ideas or questions, please reach out to us at editor@georgiabulletin.org or (404) 920-7430. The announcement that can be used in your parish's remaining February bulletins follows:

GEORGIA BULLETIN NOTES

In March, The Georgia Bulletin will feature listings of Lenten events from expanded reconciliation times to take-out fish fry dinners. The March issues will explore continued pastoral responses to the coronavirus. Also to be featured are Scripture reflections, new principal announcements for Catholic schools and news from the Vatican. Please email editor@georgiabulletin.org to submit story ideas from your parish community. Learn more about your archdiocesan newspaper and read the latest news at www.georgiabulletin.org.
